Quick Relief!

When a man has suffered from Rheumatism only a little while, and is relieved from his pain, he is happy and delighted. But suppose he has Suffered for more than a third of a century.

Alvin Grim, of Vale, Iowa, writes: "ATHLOPHOROS has helped me much. The pain in my limbs is all gone, but some lameness is left yet, and well there might be, for I have been troubled for thirty-five years with Rheumatism."

Mrs. A. B. Baker, of Chicago,

Had rheumatic pains in her back for fifteen years, and Mr. Baker had been the victim of Rheumatism until his head was drawn down over his left shoulder. Mr. Baker writes:

"Half a bottle of ATHLOPHOROS made me as good as new. My wife has taken the other half, and has not complained of her back since. She says her back never was so free from pain and ache as it has been since she has taken the ATHLOPHOROS."

There are many people who think that because they have suffered so long, and have tried so many medicines in vain, they must "suffer on their three score years." But you see what ATHLOPHOROS has done.

However Old your Case;
However Severe your Pains;
However Great your Disappointments,

Try Athlophoros

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us as directed.

Chancery Notice.

STATE OF ILLINOIS, Macon County, } ss.
In the Circuit Court to December Term, 1884.
Clara Walden vs. Isaac Walden—In Chancery Divorce.

AFFIDAVIT of non-residence in the State of Illinois of the above named defendant, Isaac Walden, having been filed in the office of the clerk of the Circuit Court of Macon county, Illinois, notice is hereby given to the said Isaac Walden, the defendant in the above cause, that the said complainant has filed her bill of complaint in the Circuit Court of Macon county, Illinois; that a summons in said cause has been issued out of said court in said cause against you the said defendant, returnable at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, in Macon county, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December, 1884, as is by law required, and that said cause is still pending and undetermined in said court.

Now unless you, the said defendant, shall be and appear before the said Circuit Court of Macon county, Illinois, on the first day of the next December term thereof, 1884, to be held at the Court House, in the city of Decatur, Macon county, Illinois, on the first Monday in the month of December, 1884, and plead, answer or demur to said bill, the same will be taken as confessed and a decree entered against you in accordance with the prayer of said bill. FARM AND HOUSEHOLD.

—Scarlet clover is a valuable bee plant, but is an annual.—Exchange.

—In skimming the cream off the milk, says an old dairyman, there should always be milk enough skimmed with the cream to give the butter, when churned, a bright, clean look.

—Carrots, potatoes, parsnips and beets are heat producing, while vegetables that form above ground, such as asparagus, lettuce, peas, beans, corn, cabbage and tomatoes, are cooling.—Chicago Journal.

—Mr Joseph Harris, an authority on sheep raising, says he finds no more trouble in raising early lambs than late ones. He would rather have his lambs come in January and Febuary than in April and May.—Albany Journal.

—The night before a picnic boil some eggs until they are very hard; then drop them into a can or jar in which you have some pickled beets. In the morning the eggs will be pink and will be delicately flavored. If possible carry them in a can with the vinegar still on them.

—A handsome low screen is made by painting a large card board a sky blue, then painting a spray of daisies and clover blossoms on it. Then set this in a frame of plush about an inch and a half wide, and this is to be placed in a light ebony frame with a standard. —Cincinnati Times.

—The American Agriculturist has a description of a barrel barrow for carrying liquids. A barrel, open at the top, is fitted into the frame of an ordinary barrow with cleats, about one-third being below the top of the frame. It can be advantageously employed in carrying slops to hogs or cattle and water for plants.

—The Stock Breeder's Journal says that over-loading horses is both stupid and wicked, and strains the nerves of the eyes, for which the only remedy is to wash the eyes two or three times daily with a mild extract of witch hazel or some good eye water. When this straining is severe nothing will cure it and the horse usually becomes blind.

—A writer in the New York Tribune says he has found a good method to trap wire worms to be by "putting pieces of potatoes in the ground with a stick stuck in them to mark their position. The worms gather on the potatoes, and are quickly destroyed. This year wire worms were destroying Prof. Tracey's melon and cucumber vines by eating off the roots. He put the potato traps in the soil and thus saved the vines from destruction."

Feeding Horses.

"Yes, sir," said the proprietor of a large livery stable, "people imagine when they hear the quality of oats mentioned that their desirable qualities consist in their brightness of color, purity of scent and freedom from all appearances of having been damp or heated, but they rarely advert to the fact that when these objects have been attained their true value yet rests in their weight, and a material difference may be found in samples which, to the hand and eye of one who is a good judge of the article, may appear to be nearly the same sort, though the bushel of the one sort may be several pounds lighter than the others. The horse that is fed upon light weight oats, of which there are plenty in the market, is a loser by one-third the nutriment which he would obtain if fed with those of good quality, and if this is not looked to, he will, on long drives, fall off in condition, for the price varies according to weight in some places, and a good many stable keepers take special care not to buy the heaviest. I always buy the heaviest and cleanest oats I can find in the market, and this is one reason why my stock looks well."

"How about hay?" was asked.

"Well, I also buy the best hay I can find in the market, because it does not pay to purchase a poor quality. In many stables there is a great waste by allowing horses an unlimited use of it, which tempts them to eat too much. I give all my horses only small quantities at a time but feed more frequently. With small quantities the animals seem to eat slower, masticate it more thoroughly and it then affords the most nourishment. You see all my horses look well, and have a clean coat, with every appearance of good health. This is acquired by giving them a sufficiency of wholesome food—not too much—but administered according to the length and amount of work the animal has to perform."—U. S. Veterinary Journal.

A Lawyer's Opinion of Interest to All.

J. A. Tawney, Esq., a leading attorney of Winona, Minn., writes: "After using it for more than three years, I take great pleasure in stating that I regard Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, as the best remedy in the world for Coughs and Colds. It has never failed to cure the most severe colds I have had, and invariably relieves the pain in the chest."

MONDAY EVENING, OCT 20, 1884.

Let it die.—Chicago Times.

The curse of slavery has poisoned the blood and rotted the bone of the Democratic party.—Chicago Times.

The curse of slavery has pursued the Democratic party, and has hounded it to its death. Therefore, let it die, and no lips will be found to say a prayer over the grave on its grave.—Chicago Times.

Jeff Davis has no vote, but if he had it would not be cast for Blaine.

Hendricks Butler is for Cleveland, Hendricks and Reform.

Boss Hewitt is doing what he can for the Buffalo bully.

The men who starved the prisoners in Andersonville are for Cleveland, to the very last devil.

Henry Ward Beecher is for his partner in distress, Grover Cleveland. "A fellow feeling makes us wondrous kind."

The Brooklyn preacher, who thought a dollar a day good enough wages for a working man, is shouting for Cleveland.

Is the editor of the Review had been publishing his paper in the days of Ananias and Sapphira there would have been a printing office to dispose of at administrator's sale.

Luke Blackburn, the Kentuckian who tried to introduce yellow fever in the North during the war, by sending in infected clothing, is for Cleveland, Hendricks, Purity and Reform.

Jesse Bendick will get there without resorting to such tactics as being all things to all men. He need not be a Methodist among Methodists, a Baptist among Baptists, and a Catholic when among voters of that faith. Jesse need not be so many sided.

Gen. Beauregard blames Jeff Davis for not allowing the Confederates to capture Washington in 1861. Twenty-three years have elapsed since that time, and Jeff Davis and all his friends seem to have withdrawn all objections to the scheme and to be, with one accord, in favor of it in 1884.

E. P. Vail is making a vigorous and effective campaign for the county attorneyship, and is gaining friends in every part of the county. His ability as a lawyer cannot be questioned, and when he is elected as he is sure to be on the 4th of next month the county will have a prosecutor who will fill every requirement of the law. He is winning votes every day.

Chicago Journal: For the first time in his life, Robert T Lincoln is about to "take the stump," being announced for a couple of speeches in Central Illinois. It remains to be seen how near the modest Bob will come to being an orator, like his father. We once traveled all over the state with Abraham Lincoln, on one of his speech making tours, and never before nor since have we heard a public speaker of such resources of common sense, logic and illustrative anecdote as he was. He combined within himself the playful simplicity of a boy with the mental force of a philosopher and the tact of a politician. Only those who knew him well were aware before his election to the Presidency that "Abe" Lincoln was much more than an ordinary man.

Republicans should not forget the importance of the legislative ticket. The state of Illinois is reliably Republican, but the margin in the legislature is close, and that is what the Democrats are working on. Carter Harrison does not expect to be elected Governor, but is laboring to go to the Senate. For this purpose everything else will be traded off in order to secure votes for Democratic candidates for the legislature. The 29th district is one of the close ones, and can only elect two Republicans by an evenly divided vote for our two candidates. Don't plump, therefore, for either of our men, but give one and a half votes each to Grason and Lawrence.

The colored man who was circulating Harrison literature at Springfield last week was not as the Review would have its readers believe, a member of the Masonic grand lodge, and did not attend its meetings. He stood outside thrusting his waste paper into the hands of delegates as they came out, and receiving expressions of disapproval in return. We are informed that every delegate to the grand lodge was for Blaine, Logan and Oglesby. The man who was doing Harrison's work was formerly editor of a Chicago paper devoted to the colored people's interests, and made himself so obnoxious to his race that they sat down on him. He naturally drifted into the Democratic party.

We hear a good deal in Illinois about the possibility of Carter Harrison's election, but Alderman Sheridan, of Chicago, in an Indianapolis interview, said that while the Illinois Democracy are making an active campaign and are "making Rome howl," it is too much to expect that they will elect Carter Harrison, when the fact is considered that a Republican majority of 37,642 is to be overcome. Everything depends on the Germans, and if they do not desert us, as they did in Ohio, we have more than a fighting chance to win. There is no disputing the fact that Logan adds great strength to the Republican ticket in our state, but Oglesby is the most popular man of all of them. Oglesby makes votes wherever he goes."

That is one Democrat who don't let his enthusiasm get away with his sense.

Said Grover Cleveland, in New York City:

I believe, too, that the best administration of Government is accomplished when it is conducted according to business principles.

And then he sat down to a secret confab with John Kelly, to solicit the active help of Tammany by a pledge of such official spoils as might be demanded by a gang of politicians who know his necessities and determined to make the most of them, "on business principles."

"We're going to elect Cleveland just as sure as that flag goes up," said Buckingham at the Democratic pole raising at Prairie Hall on Saturday. Before another minute the top of the pole broke off and the flag came to the ground. Oh, horrid omen.

What Carter Harrison is After.

Whiteside Sentinel.

Carter Harrison does not expect to be elected Governor. His object and that of his friends is to secure a majority in the next Legislature, so that he be chosen United States Senator. Democrats in Illinois will trade anything for Senators and Representatives. Republicans in every Senatorial district should be on their guard. There are a number of close districts in the state, and the defection of a few Republican votes in each, might elect the Democratic candidates. Such a catastrophe ought to be, and must be avoided.

Philadelphia Press: Blaine mingles freely with the people, while Cleveland shuns and avoids them; Blaine defends his views on the tariff boldly and without reserve, while Cleveland evades the question and is silent; Blaine looks to the people, while Cleveland looks to the politicians—so that in all respects it is the same old conflict between courage and cowardice, principle and policy, Republicanism and Democracy.

The following, it is said, was the bill of fare at the Cleveland "bobby-cue" in Brooklyn Thursday:

Mechanic's hen pie	10
Pilotage biscuit, per cent	20
Elevated Railroad hash	10
Sixteen hour one-driven' gruel	05
H O Thompson round	$999.00
Morrisey execution pudding	650.00
Copperhead "sass"	18.60
Slavery cutlets	2.50
Workingman's friend pudding	50
Mulligan blunder	06
Mud Little Rock	99
Solid South steaks	20
Free-trade tea	00
Free whisky	00
Ku-Klux brandy	00

"I shall cast my first Presidential vote next month," said a young man as he stood in the depot at Quincy, Mass. "And you will cast your first vote for Cleveland," said an Independent. "My father was killed in the War," responded the young man in a tone which caused the Independent to slink away.

New York Sun (Dem): If Mr. Blaine is finally elected, his first thanks should be addressed to the blinded and senseless managers who made the Democratic convention nominate Mr. Cleveland. They are responsible for the overthrow of the Democracy and the election of the Republican candidate.

Blaine in Indiana.

Blaine at South Bend.

South Bend, Ind., October 19.—At a little past three o'clock yesterday afternoon the train arrived at South Bend. In the forenoon there had been a trades' procession. The afternoon was to be devoted to the Blaine reception; the evening to a torchlight procession. Mr. Blaine was escorted through the principal streets by a body of Plumed Knights. It was about 5:30 when the procession reached the stand, erected near the Court-house. The two Michigan Senators, Conger and Palmer, were first introduced. After, they had given some account of the tour through Michigan, Hon. Marvin Campbell, the President of the day, introduced Mr. Blaine, who made a speech.

South Bend, Ind., October 20.—Mr. Blaine was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Studebaker Saturday night, and yesterday morning attended the Milburn Memorial Church with them, listening to a sermon by the Rev. Dr. Hatfield, of Chicago. After church Mr. Blaine and his son Walker visited the family of James Oliver for a couple of hours. Later in the afternoon they were driven to St. Mary's Academy to visit his aunt, the venerable Mrs. Phitan, and cousin, Mother Angela, the Superior. The young ladies of the institution met him on the lawn, and Miss Anna Murphy, of Chicago, delivered an address of welcome, to which Mr. Blaine briefly responded.

From St. Mary's Academy he was driven to Notre Dame University, where he was warmly welcomed by Rev. Father Soria and by Rev. Father Walsh, the President. The latter presented Mr. Blaine to the students, who were massed on the campus. Mr. Blaine addressed them as follows:

I never feel more pleasure in standing before an audience than when it is composed of young men, the future hope of our grand and young Republic. The possibilities that are before you are possibilities of great success or of great failure. You should remember that you are in a country possessing the widest prospect and that the responsibility of educated Americans is greater than the responsibility of educated men elsewhere. The responsibility devolving upon you is of a political, literary and religious character, and you should have a thorough moral training to discharge it, and to give an account of yourselves not only in this life but in the greater and better life to come, and properly to take an honorable position among the sixty millions of people who await you. You go forth from these halls with prospects proportionate to your efforts and your discrimination to succeed. I had the pleasure of meeting yesterday a number of young men of the University of Michigan, and I told them as I now tell you, that your responsibilities are increased in proportion to the educational advantages which you possess: that your countrymen will hold you accountable for them. By making a proper use of your time and opportunities, you will be enabled to discharge your duties honorably.

Mr. Blaine will leave in the morning at ten o'clock for his trip through Indiana.

Butler at Batavia.

Batavia, N. Y., October 19.—General Butler passed Friday night in his hotel car, using his comfortable bed and private compartments for the first time while the car was lying on the side track at the depot. Only the through express train disturbed the silence of a night in the country. A thin blanket of snow coated the hills on the way to Oneida, where General Butler was met by thousands of men and women whose demonstration was reinforced by the booming of cannon and display of bunting. General Butler made a speech here which was heartily applauded. Addresses were also made by the General on the way at Lyons, Clyde, etc.

Belva in the Presidential Chair.

New York, October 19.—Mrs. Belva Lockwood arrived in this city yesterday morning, stopping at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. Almost immediately on entering the hotel she went out again and visited the gallery of a photographer. The operator was about to seat her in a small chair when she espied the large chair in which Cleveland and Blaine sat while having their photographs taken. "Why don't you place me in that chair?" she asked. "That is the Presidential chair," replied the operator. "Well, sir, I will sit in that chair," said Mrs. Lockwood. "I think I am able to fill it as well as any who have occupied it."

Belva's Bile.

New York, October 20.—Mrs. Belva Lockwood addressed 400 persons at the Academy of Music last evening upon the issues of the campaign. She accused all the parties, except her own, of insincerity and incompetency, and promised, if elected, to correct many evils.

Republican Gain.

New York, October 20.—The Republican National Committee have issued an address, estimating a Republican gain of 313 per cent. in Ohio and seven per cent. in West Virginia in the recent election.

Two Deaths.

Cincinnati, O., October 19.—Policeman Michael Gorman died yesterday. He was shot last Tuesday evening in a small riot among colored men in the West End. Gorman attempted to arrest a man and was shot in the back by an unknown man. This was the beginning of the riot. Henry Brown, a colored man, was also killed in the affray. Tuesday evening, on receipt of the news of the wounding of Gorman, Mrs. Rinear, sister of Gorman, became ill, and upon hearing of his death, she fell into a comatose state and died in a few hours.

A $10,000 Model—Bads' Enterprise.

Pittsburgh, Pa., October 19.—A $10,000 model of Captain James B. Eads' proposed ship railway over the Mexican Isthmus, representing a ship seven feet long being raised out of the water and run across an imaginary isthmus, was put on exhibition here yesterday in the Union Switch & Signal Company's building, and inspected by a number of prominent railroad men, among whom were Charles S. Clark and Colonel J. P. Andrews, directors in the company building the manster railway.

Two Hundred Thousand Dollar Fire.

Brooklyn, N. Y., October 20.—Before daylight yesterday morning about $200,000 worth of property was destroyed by fire at Nos. 242 to 252 Plymouth street. The loss is nearly equally divided between the Carey estate, which owns the buildings burned, and the occupants of the latter, who were mostly small manufacturers. The Carey estate is well insured, but the insurance on the remaining property is unknown.

Kicked By a Mule.

Nokomis, Ill., October 20.—Last evening Elias Burton, aged sixteen, who had been spending the day with his brother, who was employed by Mr. Jacob Strider four or five miles north of town, went to get his horse to return home, when in passing behind a mule the animal kicked him, breaking one of his arms and inflicting a severe and dangerous wound on his head.

A Princely Gift.

New York, October 19.—At a meeting of the trustees of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, yesterday evening, the announcement was officially made that Commodore Wm. H. Vanderbilt had given to that institution $500,000 as a building site fund, including twenty-nine city lots at Sixty-eighth and Sixty-ninth streets and Tenth avenue. It is understood that building operations will be begun at an early day.

Garrett's Reply.

President Roberts, of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, Scotched.

Baltimore, Md., October 20.—Robert Garrett, Acting President of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company, is out in a lengthy statement in reply to the statements made by President Roberts of the Pennsylvania Railroad, to a committee of Baltimore merchants, with regard to the existing troubles between the two corporations. Garrett claims that said committee received from President Roberts, a one-sided, imperfect and very misleading reply, and says that the whole scope and spirit of Roberts' reply is to practically intimate that the action of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company in cutting the Baltimore & Ohio off from a Philadelphia and New York connection was not because the Baltimore & Ohio traffic was unprofitable to the Pennsylvania Company, but because they regarded such action as a proper retaliation. The statement made by Mr. Roberts that the Baltimore & Ohio were accorded the same facilities for express business as the Adams Express Company, Mr. Garrett says, is untrue. He says: "not only had he not given us facilities to do express business but absolutely prohibits us from doing any business whatever either between New York and Philadelphia or between New York and Baltimore or between Philadelphia and Baltimore, although we have always been willing to pay him and his shareholders fifty per cent, more than the Adams do for doing the same business. Taking the statement of Mr. Roberts, with regard to the running of Baltimore & Ohio sleepers over the Philadelphia, Washington & Baltimore Railroad, Mr. Garrett says that the committee were left to infer that the Baltimore & Ohio were treated just as well as the Pullman Company." "But the fact is that, while we are charged with sending sleepers over their line, the Pullman Company is actually paid for so doing."

In answer to the assertion of Mr. Roberts that the Baltimore & Ohio would not have been favored were it not with the hope of keeping the Baltimore & Ohio from building its new line to Philadelphia, Mr. Garrett furnishes the following abstract from a letter of Vice-President Cassatt, dated March 21st, 1881, through which the contract was made: "I may add that the terms proposed are made with the understanding that your company has decided to build a new line between Baltimore and Philadelphia, and that, therefore, you simply desire to use this company's road for the movement of your traffic until such time as you have completed a new road."

Mr. Garrett then goes on to say that the Baltimore & Ohio did not begin to build the new line because they doubted the ability of the Pennsylvania Railroad to carry the traffic. They began to build that line because of their experience with Pennsylvania contracts and because they were resolved to be in the power of their company no longer.

Fun Ahead.

Pittsburgh, Pa., October 20.—A gentleman named Bayard, from Fayette County, who was in the city yesterday, says the Hungarians are leaving the coal mines by the score. The majority are going to the Hocking Valley coal regions. An agent has been in the vicinity of Connellsville for some time contracting with the "Huns" to mine coal in the Hocking Valley for fifty cents per ton, twenty cents less than is demanded by the strikers.

No Cause for Alarm.

Marshall, Mo., October 19.—Benj. Dorman, the German farmer who killed Benj. Poe near Brownsville, Thursday morning, for insulting the latter's wife, was brought here yesterday and incarcerated. Dorman placed himself in the hands of the officers, stating he wanted the protection of the law as he feared mob violence. His fears are thought to be without foundation, as he has the sympathy of his neighbors.

The Exhibition at Centralia, Ill.

Centralia, Ill., October 20.—The Union Fair Association opens its exhibition here to-day with a fine exhibit of stock, which has been coming in since Saturday morning. The Art Hall has been refitted and greatly improved, and will be one of the principal attractions this year. A large crowd is expected, as the farmers have finished putting in their wheat and will be in attendance.

After Artemus Ward.

Cincinnati, O., October 20.—The will of Mrs. Henry D. Huntington, by which she left $300,000 to the Episcopal Church of Minnesota, was probated some ten days ago. It now appears that Mrs. Huntington had nothing to will, for the reason that her worldly possessions consisted merely of a life estate interest, which interest died with her.

An Eclipse of the Sun.

San Francisco, Cal., October 19.—A partial eclipse of the sun was visible here at 4:20 yesterday afternoon; 6.38 degrees of the surface was obscured. No extraordinary phenomena has been reported.

Arrested for Embezzlement.

Williamsport, Pa., October 19.—F. C. Bangs, agent for Perkins, Lyons & Co., liquor dealers, St. Paul, Minn., was arrested here yesterday on a charge of embezzling $1,500 from his employers. He was placed in jail, awaiting a requisition from Minnesota.

Train Wrecking in Massachusetts—An Insane Person Burned to Death.

Shot His Wife and Her Companion and Killed Himself—A Prize-Fight Interrupted by Darkness.

Fell From a Bridge—Mrs. Oliver's Last Smoke—Fatally Stabbed—Light Bail for a Heavy Crime.

Train Wrecking in the East.

Springfield, Mass., October 19.—Particulars of the accident on the Boston & Albany Railroad, near Kinderhook, Friday night, show that it was caused by train wreckers, who placed a pile of rails and sleepers on the track, carefully wedged in position. The locomotive turned completely over. The express car jumped over it, and the baggage and smoking cars were piled on top. The sleeper remained on the track. Engineer Davis was found under the wreck terribly scalded, and died at 3 a. m. Fireman Stickney's recovery is doubtful. Conductor C. H. Gould had a leg injured. Baggage-master George Fairbanks was scalded. A wrecking train from Albany cleared the track. The Boston & Albany officials have offered $1,0000 reward for the discovery of the miscreants who wrecked the train.

An Insane Man Burned to Death.

Erie, Pa., October 20.—While the family of Volney Bull, of Northeast, were seated around the table Saturday night, they discovered that the entire house was on fire. All the inmates were helped through a window except the insane brother of Mr. Bull who was locked up in a padded room up-stairs. Mr. Bull rushed up-stairs to release his brother but found the entrance to the room filled with flames. Rushing through it he attempted to unlock the door but was driven back horribly burned. The insane man's cries and shrieks could be heard above the crackling of the flames for half an hour when they suddenly ceased. His crisped body was found in the basement. He was worth $40,000 in money which his brother held in trust for him.

A Murderous Suicide.

Leavenworth, Kas., October 20.—Richard J. Waddy, a stove-mounter at the Great Western Foundry, shot his wife and a woman named Logue yesterday afternoon, fatally wounding both, and then shot himself in the right temple causing instant death. He had been separated from his wife for some time, and had been arrested at her instigation. He followed them to 307 Miami street, and while his wife was writing at a table opened fire upon her. He then fired at Miss Logue, striking her in the back and breast. He then put the pistol to his temple and blew his brains out. It is said he had another wife and family in Troy, N. Y. The affair has caused great excitement in the city.

Fought to a Draw.

Chicago, Ill., October 20.—A hotly contested prize-fight, which finally ended in a draw on account of darkness, took place at four o'clock yesterday afternoon at Summerdale, a small suburb of this city. The principals were Paddy Welsh and Paddy O'Donnell, and the fight was for $100 a side, London rules. Twenty-four rounds were fought, and it was very evident O'Donnell was getting the worst of it, when darkness came on. Among the spectators were half a dozen women, including O'Donnell's wife. This evening the police arrested Welsh, O'Donnell and the notorious Jere Dunn, who was an interested spectator and had been asked to act as referee, but refused.

Fell From a Bridge.

Pittsburgh, Pa., October 20.—Late last Saturday night, while John McInnally, aged fifteen, was walking across the plank laid over the trestle work of the new Seventh street bridge, he made a misstep and fell to the ground, a distance of sixty feet. He was picked up and taken to the hospital, where it was found that his skull was fractured and both arms and one leg broken. He lingered in an unconscious condition until this morning, when he died.

Her Last Smoke.

Independence, Mo., October 19.—Last Friday night Mrs. John Oliver, the wife of a prominent stockman living ten miles south of this city, entered a closet in which was stored several pounds of blasting powder. A spark from a pipe she was smoking caused an explosion, fatally injuring Mrs. Oliver and tearing the house to pieces.

Fatally Stabbed.

Council Bluffs, Ia., October 20.—Jim Snodderly, a notorious character, who has been charged with all manner of crimes during the past six years, engaged in an altercation with Harlnon Shoemaker, an old soldier, yesterday, and was fatally stabbed by the latter. They had been gambling for over four hours. Shoemaker is under arrest.

Light Bail For a Heavy Crime.

Wheeling, W. Va., October 20.—Saturday night Harry Carruthers, a fourteen-year-old son of a prominent and highly-esteemed resident, got into a quarrel with John Voltz, aged sixteen, and struck him over the head with a ball-bat, breaking the skull and inflicting injuries from which he died at midnight. Carruthers was released on $1,500 bail.

An Engineer's Neglect.

Two Men Killed and Four Dangerously Wounded.

Sisterville, W. Va., October 20.—Information has just reached this city of a terrible explosion which took place on Friday evening at ten mile creek, Tyler County, by which two men were instantly killed and five more dangerously wounded. A gang of twelve men were at work at Isaac Wehrman's saw mill, when, without a moment's warning, the large boiler exploded. It was almost beneath the men, and the effect was terrific. The building was filled with scalding steam, which completed the work the explosion had begun. Three of the men were blown clear out of the building, one being dismembered, and the others badly hurt. Five of the men escaped without injury, but four of those unhurt by the explosion were frightfully scalded. The list of killed and wounded is as follows:

John Fox, killed by the explosion.
William Worden, scalded to death.
George Katzebue, fatally scalded.
Henry Johnson, crushed by falling.
Michael Anderson, burned fatally about the head.
Jacob Stuart, blown out of the building; both legs broken.
George Lofski, a Pole, seriously burned.

The engineer had neglected his boiler, and the water went down, causing the explosion.

HORRIBLE CATASTROPHE.

A Little Girl Eaten by Hogs and Frightfully Disfigured Sunday Morning.

A horribly distressing catastrophe occurred at the home of Mr. Rhodes Allen, one mile north of Harristown, just before the breakfast hour on Sunday morning, and to-day the family is almost inconsolable because of the dreadful misfortune which has fallen to the lot of their little five-year-old daughter.

At the time of the dreadful occurrence the family was just ready to partake of breakfast. The little girl and her nine-year-old brother, Roy, were out in the yard running about. They were playing about the hog lot, 50 yards from the house, when the little girl climbed over the fence among the hogs. Instantly an old sow and several hungry hogs ran at the little girl and threw her down, and while she screamed for help every stitch of clothing was torn from her body except a part of her undershirt. Even her shoes and stockings were torn off, and the body was frightfully torn and disfigured above the hips. The body was rolled over in the mud and dust and when taken out bore countless tooth marks on the chest, body and arms. The left arm was broken below the elbow, and the left eye was torn out of its socket by the remorseless teeth of the sow. There were several deep cuts on the forehead, from which the skin had been torn and the bone laid bare. One ear was nearly torn off, and left hanging by a shred of bleeding flesh. The temporal muscles were cut in twain, and there were numerous triangular rents of the scalp, and both arms were bruised and bitten from shoulder to hand. The dreadful work was done in less than two minutes, and though little Roy bravely jumped over the fence among the hogs to the rescue of his little sister, he was unable to keep the maddened brutes away, and was himself attacked, and more or less bruised, his clothing being torn in places. The cries of Roy were heard by Mrs. Allen and she came to the lot as fast as she could run. She lifted Roy over the fence, and did not know at the time that her little daughter was in the lot until she heard her cries. Then the girl, horribly mutilated, was removed and carried to the dwelling, where she was attended by Drs. Connelly and Ferguson, who were hastily summoned from Harristown. Dr. W. J. Chenoweth, of this city, was called in to assist in dressing the wounds. It was a very difficult undertaking, for the mud and dirt had to be washed out of the ragged wounds, but the little sufferer bore up under the ordeal surprisingly well, while the distressed parents and neighbors were wild with grief over the sad occurrence. Every one about the place was moved to tears at the sight of the little girl's body, and every effort was made to console the distressed parents.

The physicians dressed the wounds of the little sufferer as best they could, replacing the ear which will knit in time. The cuts on her forehead and scalp were neatly sewed together. If the little girl lives there will be a triangular mark on her forehead, and of course one eye is gone and her body will bear marks she will carry to her grave. But for the timely arrival of the mother, both Roy and the little girl would have been devoured by the hogs. There were several large hogs in the lot, the sow having just been separated from a litter of pigs.

Mr. Allen and family had made preparations to go to Hot Springs, Ark., and were to have departed for that place this morning to remain several weeks. They concluded on Saturday to postpone their departure several days to meet friends who came from Kentucky.

It is probable that the little girl will recover.

THE Peoria marching clubs have voted to come to Decatur on a long special train on Logan day, the 28th. The announcement to that effect is made in the Peoria Transcript of to-day.

New York's Vote.

Governor Cleveland's vote in 1882 was 535,318. General Hancock's vote in 1880 was 534,511. Garfield's vote in that state was 555,544. The scattering vote was 13,890. The indications are that James G. Blaine will receive 600,000 in November, and that Cleveland will be snowed under in his own state by from 40,000 to 75,000 majority.

SUNDAY Billy McMillan was accidentally thrown against a moving hand-car and had his left foot badly sprained, besides ruining a pair of new shoes and a pair of new trousers. Mr. Blaine's Western Trip.

The rumor started that Hon. James G. Blaine will forego his trip to Illinois, is without foundation in fact. He will visit Springfield, as already arranged, and will pass through Decatur on Friday next at about noon. He will leave Springfield immediately after the speaking in the afternoon of the 24th and go directly to Bloomington, where he will spend an hour Friday evening. Thence he will go direct to Chicago, arriving there Saturday morning. He will go thence to Milwaukee, returning in the afternoon to be present at the Chicago demonstration Saturday night. He will then go direct to New York State and stay there until the election on Nov. 4th. It will be observed that the trip has been cut short one day, and the rallies at Lincoln and Bloomington will occur on Friday afternoon and evening instead of Saturday, as first arranged.

The stop of the train in Decatur will be brief, but it will be long enough to give the people an opportunity of seeing the next president.

Death of Alfred McCaw.

News was received in Decatur Sunday of the death that morning at Salem, Ind., of Mr. Alfred McCaw, cousin of Mr. Geo. M. Wood. The telegram was received by J. R. Race & Co., with instructions to inform relatives here of the death. The message was sent to Mr. Wood and last night he left for Salem to attend the funeral. The deceased was a resident of Decatur for many years, occupying the position of book-keeper for J. R. Race & Co., and was familiarly known among his large circle of acquaintances in this community as "Mac." He was well liked by all who knew him. He was a jovial citizen, well educated, a splendid accountant and a boon companion. He was aged 47 years.

Who Will Bite?

D. L. Vigus, of Decatur, has 11 head of club registered Jersey cattle, which he will dispose of to any man for one dollar per head, if Cleveland is elected president, with the understanding that he (Mr. Vigus) is to receive $200 per head, if Mr. Blaine is elected.

"MAN" FREDMAN, the democratic candidate for circuit clerk, whose home is at Maroa, really believes that there is some show for his election, but he shows a weakness of faith by sending out a lot of personal circulars, which it appears he has distributed indiscriminately. They have fallen into the hands of scores of Republicans who are greatly amused at the cheek of the Maroa young man. He was simply nominated by the democracy, not that they had any hope of his election, but simply to gratify his ambition and to give the young merchant a chance to contribute liberally to the local campaign fund. His ability to put up money was what got him the nomination. The circulars in question are personal appeals to put a democrat on guard.

PERSONAL MENTION.

E. S. McDonald left for Tuscola at noon to-day.

Miss Madge Stephenson, of Jacksonville, is a guest at the Park Hotel.

Mrs. Dr. Weems, of Eskridge, Kansas, is in the city on a visit.

Mrs. J. W. Hall, of Montpelier, Vt., is at the St. Nicholas.

Mrs. Byrnes and daughter, of Lexington, Ky., are guests of Mrs. W. J. Quinlan.

Mrs. George R. Dodson has returned from a pleasant visit among relatives and friends at Homer.

Robert J. Oglesby was with the Decatur Glee Club at the Niantic meeting Saturday evening.

Brad. DuBois, of Leadville, Colo., arrived in the city this morning and registered at the St. Nicholas.

Born, on Sunday morning, to Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Reid, of the fourth ward, a daughter.

Bert Williams is home from a trip through the wild west. He feels better since his return to the states.

Hon. Charles S. Lawrence, of Logan county, Republican candidate for representative in this district, is in the city.

C. D. Nims is no longer connected with the Church street butcher shop. Mr. Snell will have full charge.

Mrs. I. J. Davis was taken suddenly sick early yesterday morning. She is feeling some better to-day.

G. M. Wood, county treasurer, left for Salem, Ind., last night to attend the funeral of his cousin, Alfred McCaw.

Gen. Oglesby was with Gen. Logan and others at the Milk Grove meeting on Saturday. He spent Sunday with his family at Lincoln, and to-day he is at Galva.

John H. Pugh, of Union, Mo., eldest son of the late Gen. Pugh, is in the city visiting his mother and friends. He is chairman of the Republican county central committee at his home, and has been in St. Louis attending the Masonic grand lodge meeting.

Will Leiby sends us from La Crosse, Wis., a copy of the Daily Republican of that city, of Oct. 17, giving a full account of the cowardly murder of Frank Burton, president of the Blaine and Logan club, by Nat Mitchell, a rough, who was hung by the infuriated populace the same night. Mitchell fired eight balls into the body of Burton.

Sam Sloan gives us a copy of the Hillsboro (Ohio) Herald of the 18th, which contains a column account of the way in which 113 inoffensive negroes in Hamilton county were dragged out of their beds the night before the election and locked up all day in a cellar. The democratic police of Cincinnati did the dirty work, and the voters were kept in the cellar until after the polls closed. They were all legal voters. The United States authorities are now investigating this high-handed outrage.

The Planter's Wife.

This powerful and beautiful emotional drama, which was first produced here with immense success several seasons ago by Charlotte Thompson, will be given at the opera house Thursday evening next by the Harry Lacy combination. The play possesses to a wonderful extent all the elements that make up a perfect type of this class of dramas. It has been an electrical success from the first. Miss Edna Carey is the leading lady. Her part not only affords full scope for the ability of any emotional actress but is calculated to call into action the full powers of the most brilliant artist. Play goers should secure seats at once. Popular prices.

CHRISTIAN ACTIVITY.

Sermons by Rev. Mr. Stevens at Stapp's Chapel.

The services at Stapp's Chapel on Sunday brought out large congregations. The singing was good and the attention excellent. The pastor, Rev. George Stevens, selected the following text for his morning sermon: "Arise therefore and be doing, and the Lord be with thee."—I. Chron.: 22-16. This was the golden text for the Sabbath school lesson the Sunday previous, and the speaker stated that he had chosen it for a text because he liked to be thinking along in a line with his people. The great sin of the people of all ages has been the belief that they could save themselves, and the prophecy of a coming Christ became dimmer and dimmer, until God swept the wickedness from the face of the earth with a flood and re-established his kingdom in the person of David, who spent his life in enlarging the borders of the Jewish nation and gathering together the materials for the temple. The text is the command to Solomon to "Arise and be doing" and complete the temple; the dimensions and splendor of which were almost beyond imagination. This temple was typical of Christ's Kingdom, or church, and the individual members of this church are the stones, polished and cemented, who are patiently looking forward to the time when the last stone shall be added and the edifice complete. In the world of sin around us there are precious stones in the rough which we must gather in and add to the temple. The life of any church, party or organization, is in the individual members that compose it. It is impossible for a church to be overgrown if every individual member is alive and active, for Christ has placed the priesthood upon all such. The best idea of the speaker was a plea for originality, individuality, or church members. Do not become submerged into something called a church, but have Christ yourself.

Evening text, Mat. 6:9: "Our Father." Man is a creature of prayer. Napoleon said if man had not a system of prayer he would invent one. It has also been said that we come into world on bended knee. Everybody, at some time of life, prays. God is not so great, so pure, that He cannot hear us. Prayer begins in the feelings and ends in the judgment. The prayer of the child is the true type. The speaker stated that his most ecstatic idea of the Father was that the tear drop of a child could change His feelings.

MARRIAGE licenses were issued to-day to the following: William Wells and Angeline Langham, both of Decatur; George F. Richey, of Latham, and Sarah Allison, of Austin township; Peter Muller, and Grace Muller (cousins,) both of Warrensburg.

THE reports have an astonishing sameness. A gentleman who came in from the north on the Central Saturday evening took a vote on the train, with this result: Blaine 35, Cleveland 10, St. John 6, Butler 1.

The Niantic Rally.

The Republicans had a booming, big time at Niantic Saturday night, all rallying around the tall campaign pole that was put up during the afternoon. At night there was a fine torchlight procession headed by the Decatur Glee Club martial band. There were about 150 torches in line, the Illiopolis club being on deck in full force. It was headed by its martial band. The clubs stirred up the town from centre to circumference, and it was late in the night when the enthusiasm died out. There was public speaking from the stand, where the Decatur and Illiopolis glee clubs sang a number of patriotic selections. Charles S. Lawrence, candidate for representative, spoke 15 minutes. A. H. Mills, who made the principal speech of the occasion, spoke one hour, and E. P. Vail addressed the multitude for 30 minutes. The demonstration was the largest and most enthusiastic of the campaign at Niantic, and made all the Republicans feel good.

Senator Rogers and I. R. Mills addressed the Republicans at Harristown the same eveing. There was a good-sized crowd out and the speakers were accorded close attention.

Contestants.

E. W. Webber, representing a St. Louis brewing firm, and Albert Martin, agent for a Decatur firm, will be the contestants for one of the splendid gold-headed canes to be voted away at the Catholic fair this week. The votes will be 10 cents each, and the friends of each party named are invited to come to the front.

The contestants for the large doll, "Maid of Erin," are Gracie Blume and Clara Shepherd.

For the Domestic sewing machine Helen Skelly and Kate Dinneen are the contestants.

THE testimony of the pulpit always carries weight. Here is what Rev. W. H. Beecher, a well-known and highly respected clergyman of 36 Park Avenue, Chicago, Ill., says of Athlophoros, the great specific for rheumatic and neuralgic diseases: "I have used Athlophoros, the great rheumatic and neuralgic cure, enough to satisfy me that it will certainly cure neuralgia, sciatic and inflammatory rheumatism, and it removes all sharp pains of chronic rheumatism. I recommend my friends to try it and be convinced."

Resolutions of Condolence.

On October 14th, 1884, at Regular convention of Friendship Lodge, No. 128 K. of P., Oreana, Ill., the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, The allwise God has seen fit to remove from us our Bro. John Rambo, it is proper that we should show our appreciation of the labor and services of the deceased brother and our regret in common with the entire brotherhood, and especially of our lodge, therefore

Be it resolved, That by the death of Brother John Rambo our order has met with a serious loss, and this lodge has been deprived of the services of a faithful member and counselor.

Resolved, That we tender to the bereaved mother, sister and brother of the deceased our sympathy and condolence in their affliction, and that a copy of these resolutions be presented to them.

Italian Marriages.

They are a prolific people To be childless is regarded as an intense calamity; and no matter how shallow the purse, no newcomer is welcomed other than with smiles and gladness. Now, is it possible that a people so home-loving, so affectionate, so fond of offspring, should be so depraved, so immoral, as we habitually depict them? We have too long looked upon one side only of the Italian character; it is high time that we learned to know the other. Another favorite idea of ours is that the Italians never make love marriages No doubt their marriages, like those of the French, are often arranged by the parents, but, unlike those of the French, as a rule a veto of choice is left to the young people, and if we could collect statistics on that point, I am inclined to think that we should find that the proportion of these marriages, founded upon a groundwork of reason and social compatibility, which turn out well is as great as, if not greater than, that of our marriages founded upon youthful caprice and unreason.—London Society.

—A chicken rooster entered a lady's house the other day, and seeing himself effected in a large, handsome mirror, leemed it his bounden duty to go for the reflected intruder, and he forthwith hrew himself against the mirror, shattering it all to pieces. With the breaking of the glass his shadow disappeared, nd he concluded he had demolished is supposed antagonist. The noise rought the good lady into the house, hen she found her valuable mirror in ins and the rooster perched on the arble slab crowing for victory —Boston Budget.
